

My So-Called Plastic Free Life. I Tried For A Month. Here's How It Went.

Women For: Orange County
Wednesday, April 24, 2019
11:00—Refreshments
11:30—Meeting Begins
Irvine Ranch Water District Duck Club
15 Riparian View, Irvine

Jill Replogle is the Orange County reporter for KPCC, which is a public radio station based in Pasadena which is a member of National Public Radio.

In January, Jill and her family tried to eliminate all single-use plastic from their lives. She will share their successes and challenges, along with what she has learned about the global plastic waste problem. She will also update us on the state of the recycling industry and some promising solutions and alternatives to single-use plastic.

Jill has worked as a journalist since 2001, reporting from Central America, Mexico, California and the U.S. Southwest. Prior to joining KPCC, Jill was managing editor for the English-language newspaper The Tico Times in San Jose, Costa Rica.

In addition to reporting on plastics she has recently reported on Orange County's dramatic rise in homelessness and on voting centers.

Please join us for what is sure to be an interesting and informative meeting.

Free and open to the public. Men are cordially invited.

Women For: Orange County is a volunteer, non-partisan organization dedicated to advancing Human & Civil Rights, Peace, Social Justice, Education, Health Care and the Environment.
