David Pepper has written four novels that bridge real-world politics and fiction. His latest book, Laboratories for Autocracy: A Wake-up Call from Behind the Lines, raises an alarm and hopes to inspire action on a national, state, and individual level to fight autocracy and ensure American democracy endures.

He will be discussing:

- What is currently happening in statehouses across the country
- The levers of power being quietly abused
- The deepest threats to democracy happening everyday
- How the Laboratories of Autocracy are at work

As part of this discussion, David Pepper will present how we can:

- ensure positive public outcomes
- go on the offense to protect American democracy
- bring accountability to statehouses
- reclaim our Democracy at a national, state, and individual level
